

“Iron Swords”

Shlomi Goldstein

Shlomi's Life motto:

We must learn to live together as brothers, only united will we win.

Dr. Shlomi Goldstein is a dentist, married to Naama, father of 5 and lives in Jerusalem. Shlomi studied at the Noam Midrashia in Pardes Hana, at the Tefarat Zvi Yeshiva and Merkaz HaRav.

Between 2001-2003 he served in the Armored Corps and continued in the reserves until 2012. Shlomi participated in the Second Lebanon War and in various operations.

In 2015, after completing his dental studies, he returned to military service and performed several positions within the Medical Corps.

On Simchat Torah, Dr. Shlomi joined the identification unit 6017 of the medical corps at the Shura camp, and together with rabbinical staff performed the holy task of identifying the martyrs and the many dead, soldiers and civilians alike. This crucial work enabled them to bring those killed to proper burial in Israel in a dignified and holy manner.

During December, Shlomi and a team from the unit entered the outskirts of Jabalia as part of an operation to identify the bodies of abductees. Towards the end of the operation, a mortar shell was dropped on them from a drone and Shlomi was seriously injured in his legs and abdomen from many shrapnel. He was hospitalized and rehabilitated at Tel Hashomer and Hadassah hospitals for about six months.

Today, although Shlomi is still in the process of rehabilitation from his injury, he had returned to service in the army, receiving patients and working in the identification unit.
